Mid-air collision kills 181 persons

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP) — A British airliner and a Yugoslav passenger jet carrying West German tourists collided at 35,000 feet near Zagreb today, killing at least 181 persons, officials said.

Doctors at the scene said there were no survivors.

The Yugoslav plane was reported to have had 118 passengers aboard while the British plane carried a reported 54 passengers and nine crew members. There was no report on how many crew members were aboard the Yugoslav plane.

The planes collided at 6:15 a.m. EDT near the village of Vrbovac, about 15 miles northeast of Zagreb.

British Airways officials in London said Flight 476 was on a direct flight from London to Istanbul. The officials said the plane was a Trident 3 jetliner.

Reports here said the Yugoslavian plane was a DC9 belonging to the Yugoslav charter company Inex-Adria. The DC9 was flying between Split and Cologne in West Germany.

In Cologne, officials said the Yugoslavian plane had been chartered by Kaufhof, a Cologne-based tourist agency.

Passenger lists were not immediately available.

Average 34 per cent hike slated

County pay boost near OK

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Senate Ways and Means Committee added its approval Thursday to a House measure that provides pay raises averaging 34 per cent for elected county officials in Ohio.

However, the panel deleted a key provision that would have built in future cost of living increases—annually each year from 1978 to until 1984—and circumvented an existing prohibition against elected officials receiving pay increases during their terms of office.

The bill now goes to the Senate Rules Committee for assignment to a Senate floor vote, probably early next week when the full legislature returns from summer recess.

Because of Senate committee amendments, the bill by Rep. Frederick H. Deering, D-84 Monroeville, would then go back to the House for its further consideration.

The prohibition against term increases means the bill would have to be in effect in January for the county officers elected or re-elected in November to qualify for the higher salaries in their new, four-year terms.

Deering's bill would give increases to all county officials except county auditors and one of the three commissioners in each county whose four-year terms expire midway in U.S. presidential terms. All other officers are elected in presidential years. Auditors were voted a pay boost in 1975.

The solo commissioners would have to wait until 1978 to benefit from the pending bill.

Amounts of the increases vary from county to county based on population, but average out as follows: treasurer, from $12,649 to $15,588; sheriff, $11,811 to $16,349; clerk of courts, $12,639 to $15,588; commissioner, $9,201 to $12,057; recorder, $11,531 to $14,659; engineer, $17,510 to $21,520; coroner, $6,480 to $9,997, and prosecutor, $11,805 to $22,315.

However, the 14 population brackets which are used to determine salary range from the smallest, Vinton, where the sheriff, for instance, would be raised from $7,900 to $12,000, to Cuyahoga, where the same official would get a boost from $23,000 to $27,500.

Rep. Anthony J. Celebrezze Jr., D-25 Cleveland, sponsored the amendment which took out the proposed cost of living increases ranging from $750 to $1,000 in the eight top salary classifications.

The Cuyahoga County lawmaker said he was "not ready" to provide automatic increases for county officers and thus forego the legislature's right to set salaries on a continuing basis. His amendment, if it remains in the bill, would nullify cost living increases which were included in the 1975 auditor's pay increase bill, he said.

Deering objected to the Celebrezze amendment and indicated he will seek to have the affected language restored.

in a Senate-House conference committee if necessary. "That was a main thrust of the bill, to help the local officials who are hurt by inflation," he said.

The legislature, when it enacted the auditor's bill which for the first time sought to put automatic increases into county pay scales, received an attorney general's opinion saying they could do so if the scales were "established in the law before the terms of office begin." The concept never has been tested in the courts, however.

The Senate committee adopted a pair of other amendments before recommending passage 7-0. One beefs up a prohibition against coercion of county employees to contribute to political "flower funds," and the other rearranges population brackets to hike the increases sought for officers in Hocking, Morrow, Carroll, Wyandot, Holmes and Union counties.

Coffee Break . . .

THE NIGHT OWLS citizens band radio club in Fayette County has announced that the second annual citizens band radio jamboree will take place from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday on the Fayette County Fairgrounds.

Auxiliary deputies from the Fayette County Sheriff's Department will be on hand to engrave owners' names and social security numbers onto their citizens band radios.

The engraving service will be performed free of charge, and club president Sonny Rittenhouse said numerous prizes will be distributed during the event.

Rittenhouse said he expects last year's attendance figure of 4,000 to be doubled by the end of Saturday's activity.

JAYCEES from Washington C.H. and Hillsboro invite all young men in the Leesburg, Highland and East Monroe areas to a special meeting in Leesburg to determine the possible interest in establishing a Jaycee chapter to serve that area of Highland County.

The meeting will be held at 8 p.m. Tuesday, September 14 at Lytle's Restaurant in Leesburg. . . There will be no cost to attend the meeting.

The Jaycees is a young men's organization whose membership is limited to men between the ages of 18 and 35. . . Membership is open to all young men regardless of vocation, education, religion, or race. . . The basic purpose of the organization is the development of young men through involvement and service to the community.

Both the Washington C.H. and Hillsboro chapters will have several members present to explain the functions of the Jaycees, how they serve their communities, explain projects they sponsor and to answer any questions.

PERSONS wishing to save artificial flowers or pots in the Sugar Creek Baptist or Methodist cemeteries should pick them as soon as possible.

After October 1, caretaker Alfred Lininger will clean the cemeteries for fall and dispose of any flowers or other ornaments remaining on graves.

A PRACTICE session has been scheduled for all women who wish to play in the Offside benefit football game on September 18.

Mrs. Sylvia Elliott, who is organizing the teams, said the practice will be held at 5 p.m. Sunday at Gardner Park Stadium on Circle Avenue. . . Women should report to the practice with money for shirts. . . Women with questions can contact Mrs. Elliott at 335-4589.

Paul Johnson and former Washington C.H. Blue Lion football coach Maurice Pfeiffer will coach the two women's teams.

At soil, water district annual meeting

American history reviewed

By GEOFF MAVIS
Record-Herald Staff Writer

American history was reviewed through various mediums during Thursday night's annual meeting of the Fayette County Soil and Water Conservation District.

The event, held in the Mahan Building on the Fayette County Fairgrounds, centered around the election of district supervisors for the upcoming year, but featured much more.

Following a smorgasbord-style dinner, a crowd of 130 persons, including the Fayette County Board of Commissioners and other local dignitaries, were welcomed by chairman Edgar Agle.

Paul B. Hoskins, Ohio Conservation Service District 5 specialist, announced the nominees for election to two supervisor positions for the Fayette County conservation area. Balloting was conducted, and the new supervisors were announced at the end of the program.

Lynne Acton, a student at Miami Trace High School, provided a singing and guitar-playing presentation, which included a medley of historically patriotic songs.

Following Miss Acton's musical performance, Leonard Watts, Fayette County soil conservation official, narrated a slide show of old photographs illustrating the progress of farming and soil conservation over the years.

Kenneth Craig, president of the Fayette County Historical Society, was the featured speaker for the evening. His 20-minute address concerned numerous pieces of historical data relative to Fayette County and unknown to many of those in attendance.

As a point of interest during one of his discourses, Craig noted that a Fayette County resident once represented the United States in the Olympics. Clarence Taylor performed in the standing high jump at the Olympics held just after World War I, Craig said.

The report of the election was conducted just after Craig's speech, and Hoskins announced that Edgar Agle and Oliver Iden had been voted the two supervisors for the Fayette County Soil and Water Conservation District.

The two men will be responsible for developing conservation programs in Fayette County and overseeing all operations relative to such activity.

Those eligible to vote in the election had to be 18 years of age and property owners or occupiers of land within the boundaries of the Fayette County Soil and Water Conservation District.

China mourns Mao

TOKYO (AP) — In deep mourning over the death of Communist party Chairman Mao Tse-tung, China began today to pay somber tribute to the man whose loss leaves the world's most populous country without a leader worthy of his mantle.

A struggle for power appeared inevitable among the radicals and moderates who have been jockeying for leadership since Mao's health began an obvious decline earlier this year. He died Wednesday at age 82. The Peking government has not disclosed the cause of death.

The central committee of the Chinese Communist party issued an appeal for unity, and reports from China indicated the people were calm as they mourned their revolutionary leader.

"All papers devote the entire front page to a huge portrait of Chairman Mao Tse-tung bordered in black," the official Hsinhua news agency said today in a broadcast monitored here. It said newspapers used the banner headline: "Eternal glory to our great leader and teacher Chairman Mao Tse-tung."

Peking residents contacted by telephone said flags were at half-staff through the capital, nearly everyone was wearing a black armband, some people wept and large crowds gathered in the huge Tien An Men Square to put white flowers at a monument.

Written on the monument are Mao's words: "The heroes of the people are immortal."

"Peking is somber," one resident said by telephone, "but things are very much normal aside from what you would expect for the mourning of the chairman."

"People have severe expressions on their faces," a second resident said, "but there is no high emotion. We're all impressed by the calm atmosphere."

Chinese broadcasts were devoted to Mao's passing. A resident said the broadcasts told listeners to turn their grief into strength, to follow Mao's will to build a socialist system in China and to continue efforts for unity.

The Japanese newspaper Asahi quoted an aged Chinese as saying, "The most sorrowful moment has come. We have lost Chairman Mao, Premier Chou En-Lai and Marshal Chu

Bar worker wins lottery

CLEVELAND (AP) — Fifty-seven-year-old Murray Wheeler says he makes it a practice to buy some of the lottery tickets that are left over every week at the bar where he works in Prospect, Ohio.

Thursday night, one of those tickets that nobody else wanted brought Wheeler $250,000 in the Ohio lottery Pot O' Gold game.

Every Tuesday, Wheeler said, he buys $5 to $20 worth of tickets "that would have gone back unclaimed."

He said his winning ticket was one of 10 he bought Tuesday morning before they were to be returned to the Ohio Lottery Commission.

Wheeler, a retired truck driver, works parttime at the Victory Inn, and now plans to retire from his bartending job too.

"I'm going to work for those people until Oct. 2," he said. "It's not everybody who has a quarter-million dollar bartender." Then, Wheeler said he and his wife, Edna, 52, probably will take a trip to Florida to visit friends.

Guy O'Neal of Columbus won $25,000. Other winners included Bernard Bulesky of Streetsboro, $11,000; Claude Blanton of Ashland, Ky., $9,900; Richard Shaheen of Canton, $9,800, and Mary Searcy of Toledo $8,500.

In the weekly number drawing these numbers were picked: 69245; 427 951.

Carter, Ford continue campaigning

By DAVE RILEY
Associated Press Writer

As Jimmy Carter was being treated to a colorful torchlight parade in Chicago, President Ford planned for a meeting with Catholic leaders who aren't carrying any torches for the Democratic nominee.

Ending a day of campaigning across Ohio and Illinois, Carter was the center attraction as he rode in a red convertible beneath bursting fireworks in a torchlight parade with Chicago Mayor Richard Daley.

Carter and Ford both oppose a constitutional amendment to prohibit abortion. But Carter, who has been on the road campaigning, has been followed by antiabortion demonstrators. He accused Ford of avoiding such inconveniences by hiding in the White House instead of meeting the public.

Ford was preparing to meet some of the public today, scheduling a session at the White House with a group of Catholic leaders, including an archbishop who earlier voiced dissatisfaction with Carter's stand on abortion.

Ford, like Carter, continues to oppose a constitutional ban on abortion, according to a spokesman. But Ford has altered his stand, apparently hoping to persuade the Catholic leaders that he is more sympathetic to their antiabortion views than the Democratic nominee.

White House Press Secretary Ron Nessen said Thursday that Ford now favors an amendment to let each state to set its own abortion policy.

Nessen first insisted that Ford's views on abortion have been "totally consistent" and that his position "has not changed at all." But he later admitted that Ford earlier this year had opposed any constitutional amendment on abortion.

Carter says he opposes a constitutional amendment to make abortions illegal again, although he said he personally is against abortion.

Carter also says he thinks those who do favor such an amendment should be free to seek passage of one.

Carter met with the Catholic leaders two weeks ago to explain his position, but they voiced "disappointment" about his views. Since then, Carter has been harassed regularly by antiabortion protesters. The candidates debated foreign policy, military affairs and government waste on Thursday.

Carter said that as president he would not plan an early trip to China, preferring instead that top-level Chinese leaders visit the United States, but Ford's spokesman scoffed at that idea.

Nessen, told of Carter's suggestion, laughed. When asked if he wanted to be quoted as just laughing, Nessen said, "Derisively."

Meanwhile, Ford left the White House long enough to speak to the Jewish service organization B'nai

B'rith, where he said Carter's efforts to cut the administration's record peacetime defense budget would bring about crisis.

The House passed the $104.3-defense appropriation bill Thursday. It was less than Ford wanted, but still is the largest single bill ever put through Congress.

Ford said Carter wants "a nuclear strategy of massive retaliation" and

For saving youth's life

City Council lauds policeman's efforts

For "expertise displayed in saving the life of an infant and in recognition of outstanding services to the community" a Washington C.H. police officer has been honored by Washington City Council.

Washington C.H. Ptl. Larry L. Mongold was recognized in a resolution adopted September 8 by Washington C.H. City Council members. The resolution expressed "appreciation and recognition for the services rendered" by Ptl. Mongold.

At approximately 1:55 a.m. on August 3, Jason S. Lunsford 2, of Dayton, was traveling by car with his grandparents along U.S. 35 when he went into convulsions near the Ohio 753 intersection.

The youth's grandparents stopped a passing truck whose driver contacted the Fayette County Sheriff's Department by citizens band radio. Because of the proximity of the car to Washington C.H. city limits, Ptl. Mongold was contacted by sheriff's deputies.

Upon arriving at the scene, Mongold administered mouth-to-mouth resuscitation to the child who had stopped breathing.

The Dayton youth, accompanied by his grandparents, was rushed by cruiser to Fayette County Memorial Hospital. While being transported to the emergency room, the youth stopped breathing again, and was revived by Mongold a second time, in spite of the fact that Mongold had been informed beforehand that the child reportedly had spinal meningitis.

It was later learned that the Dayton youth had not been suffering from the disease at the time.

Deaths, Funerals

Mrs. Arthur Finley

Mrs. Ora Finley, 526 E. Market St., died at 9:45 p.m. Thursday in Fayette County Memorial Hospital where she had been a patient for one day. She had been in failing health for the past month.

Born in Washington C.H., Mrs. Finley spent most of her life here. She assisted her husband in the operation of the old Finley's Corner Drug Store (now Risch's). She was a member of the First Presbyterian Church, the Washington Garden Club, the Women's Christian Temperance Union, and was a past worthy matron of the Yellow Springs Order of the Eastern Star.

Mrs. Finley is survived by her husband, Arthur; a nephew, George Dun, of Sabina; two grand-nephews and one grand-niece.

Services will be held at 1:30 p.m. Saturday in the Kirkpatrick Funeral Home, Washington C.H., with the Rev. Gerald Wheat officiating. Burial will be in Washington Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home from 3 to 5 and 7 until 9 p.m. Friday.

Floyd E. Brown

HILLSBORO — Services for Floyd E. Brown, 65, of Rt. 3, Hillsboro, formerly of Rt. 2, Leesburg, were held at 1:30 p.m. Thursday at the Hope-Miller Funeral Home, Hillsboro, with the Rev. Robert Carroll officiating. Burial was made in the Whiteoak Cemetery, near Buena Vista, Fayette County.

Born in Ross County, Mr. Brown a refrigeration engineer, was pronounced dead on arrival at Highland District Hospital, Hillsboro at 8:30 p.m. Monday.

Surviving besides his wife, Ruth, is his mother, Mrs. Cora Estle Brown of Bainbridge; three sons, James, John and David; and two daughters, Barbara and Patty, all at home; four brothers, Carl of Greenfield, Walter of Florida, George of Bainbridge, and Herbert of Leesburg; and two sisters, Mrs. Mary Everhart and Mrs. Dorothy Shoemaker, both of Bainbridge.

MRS. LENORA M. ELLIS

Services for Mrs. Lenora M. Ellis, 92, of 526 N. North St., were held at 2 p.m. Thursday in the Gerstner-Kinzer Funeral Home with the Rev. Gerald Wheat, minister of First Presbyterian Church, officiating. Mrs. Ellis, the widow of Major Walter Ellis, died Monday.

Pallbearers for the burial in Washington Cemetery were Ellis, David, Robert and Kevin Miller, Bill and Webb Boylan.

State solons study major bills

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Hearings have started before the Senate Ways and Means Committee on bills that will draw major attention at next week's late summer clean up session of the legislature.

The committee recommended one for passage Thursday—a House-approved measure that contains pay increases for most of the elected county officials throughout the state. The increases

Final tax measure approval seen near

WASHINGTON (AP) — The big tax bill that continues existing income tax cuts is expected to win final congressional approval next week and then be signed by President Ford.

Senate-House tax negotiators settled on final terms Thursday night on the bill containing a sweeping assortment of tax cuts and tax hikes and touching on a wide variety of human affairs from child care to death.

For the average American taxpayer, the bill would continue current $15-billion-a-year tax cuts through next year, worth $180 to a typical family of four making $15,000 annually.

Depending on each individual's tax circumstances, there are special features such as aid to the elderly and pensions for housewives. For firms and investors, the bill's territory extends from capital gains and losses to new curbs on tax shelters.

The top two tax-writing Democrats in Congress — Rep. Al Ullman of Oregon and Sen. Russell B. Long of Louisiana — claimed after the compromise sessions that their product is a major legislative initiative and voiced confidence that Ford will sign it.

Some items in the bill reach internationally. For instance, U.S. firms participating in the Arab boycott of Israel and Jewish businessmen could lose millions of dollars in tax benefits.

There also would be simplification of tax tables for that familiar Form 1040.

From the standpoint of the federal budget, the compromise package of tax revisions will gain for the government $1.6 billion in the budget year beginning next month, thus meeting major revenue-raising goals.

That's bad news for those taxpayers who will pay the extra money. These generally are wealthier persons who will feel, for example, a $1-billion-a-year sharper bite from the so-called minimum tax on the rich.

However, some of America's wealthiest families will benefit most from the proposed comprehensive overhaul of tax law covering major gifts during life and estates at death.

The changes would exempt from inheritance taxes all but the wealthiest 2 per cent of U.S. estates — meaning, for practical purposes, no estate worth under $525,000 would pay this federal levy. About 7 per cent pay estate taxes under present law.

By 1981, the Treasury's annual revenue loss would run $1.4 billion. However, by then, another feature of the package, hiking income taxes of heirs who sell inherited property, would be gaining $162 million.

Over-all, the tax cut package is worth $180 for a family of four making $15,000 annually, $182 for a single person earning $8,000, $204 for a couple making $10,000 and $445 for a family of four earning $6,000.

The conference committee voted to raises taxes on the wealthy by raising more revenue from the minimum tax on the rich and by limiting the amount of tax deductions that an investor may take for investing in such tax-shelter operations as moviemaking, farming, real estate, oil and gas, equipment leasing and professional sports.

60 Congressmen pledge job rights

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sixty congressmen are committing themselves to a code that bans job discrimination in their Capitol Hill offices in an unprecedented reaction to the Wayne Hays sex-payroll scandal.

The House members helped elect a six-member committee Thursday to oversee their commitment and to handle any grievances filed against them by their employees.

The code binds only 60 of the 435 members of the House of Representatives. It affects only the staffs of those 60 members or committee employees they control. There is no machinery to penalize any member who violates the code, aside from peer pressure.

But women's groups on Capitol Hill hailed the pact, known as the Fair Employment Practices Agreement, as a first step toward protecting the rights of congressional employees.

Groups including Common Cause, the League of Women Voters, the American Civil Liberties Union and the National Women's Political Caucus had sought approval of the agreement.

Miriam Dorsey of the Capitol Hill chapter of the National Women's Political Caucus said those congressmen who subscribed to the agreement recognize that "they are employers as well as legislators. I'm hoping we can go on and put Congress under the civil rights laws."

Congress has exempted itself from the anti-discrimination laws it has passed for the rest of government and for much of private business, including the Civil Rights Act of 1964, the Equal Pay Act of 1963 and the grievance mechanisms of the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission.

Carol Forbes, director of the Congressional Clearinghouse on Women's Rights, said the agreement was prompted by Elizabeth Ray's charges that former Rep. Hays kept her on the federal payroll solely for sex.

Reps. Charles Rose, D-N.C., and Patricia Schroeder, D-Colo., proposed the voluntary pact. Mrs. Schroeder, Rose and Rep. Morris Udall, D-Ariz., were chosen by their colleagues Thursday to monitor the agreement.

On Wednesday, however, the Senate passed a resolution banning bias against its employees based on race, color, sex, national origin or religion. It provided no mechanism to handle complaints.

Claim Borman son involved in cadet payoff incident

NEW YORK (AP) — Despite denials, two men convicted in West Point's cheating scandal stand by their sworn allegations that former astronaut Frank Borman's son accepted a $1,200 bribe to "fix" an honor code case while he was a cadet.

The son, Army Capt. Frederick Borman, denied the charge and offered to take a lie detector test to settle the issue.

The two cadets who are accused in the affidavits of having bribed Borman to fix a plebe's case also denied the allegation.

But the two members of the Class of 1977 who signed the statements refused to recant when told of the denials late Thursday.

One of them said he had learned of the incident from two friends who told him they in turn had heard of it from the alleged bribers. The second cadet said the two alleged bribers had boasted of their deed to him and to others in their cadet company.

The elder Borman, now president of Eastern Airlines, said he was anguished by the charges and said it was unfortunate they had been made.

Ironically, Borman, a West Point graduate who was promoted to general after his trip to the moon, is to preside at month's end at the first meeting of a blue-ribbon panel created by Army Secretary Martin R. Hoffmann to analyze the U.S. Military Academy's worst scandal in its 174 years.

"I have no intention of stepping down because I don't think I have a reason to step down," Borman said in a telephone interview.

The disputed affidavits are among those signed by 150 of the 226 cadets involved in the cheating scandal in an effort by defense lawyers to get them reinstated by showing that cheating is endemic at the academy. The affidavits accuse 687 other cadets of honor code violations.

Borman's name — actually the name of a nonexistent "Frank Borman Jr." — appeared on two similarly worded documents.

"Michael Weidner and John Otte each gave $600 to buy off an honor rep," one stated. "They told me that they gave $1,200 to the honor rep to vote not guilty at ———'s honor board in late 1973. The vote of the board was 11 guilty votes to one not-guilty vote. I found out later that Frank Borman Jr. was the honor rep who took the $1,200."

Said Frederick Borman, who graduated in 1974 and is a football coach and scout in West Point's athletic department, "I just want to tell you that everything is false, and I'll take a lie detector test. I wouldn't fix a board for $10 million." He added that he was in the same regiment as the plebe whose case was dismissed and thus couldn't have sat in judgment.

would average about 34 per cent, but would be the first in four years.

Otherwise, in advance of the full legislature's return next Tuesday, the Senate panel heard testimony on measures which assertedly could preclude pending utility rate hikes, give an economic boost to the state's inner cities, and permit the state to adopt new capital construction programs by permanently earmarking a portion of its revenues for that purpose.

Across the Statehouse, the House Finance Committee has been considering another major bill that holds promise of a solution to at least part of Ohio's highly publicized Medicaid funding problem. It is expected to be readied for floor action in that chamber no later than Wednesday.

A spokesman for Toledo Edison Co. urged defeat of the Senate measure which would let the Public Utilities Commission discount inflationary increases in the rate base used to determine the size of Ohioans' utility bills. He said it would discriminate against his company.

Sen. John T. McCormack, D-13 Euclid, introduced the bill to overcome a recent Ohio Supreme Court decision which disallowed the discounts. The decision had the effect of granting $187 million worth of rate increases, the largest of which, $104 million, went to Cleveland Electric Illuminating Co., adding about $5 a month to the average residential bill.

McCormack said his legislation would permit the commission to make the discounts for inflation in an estimated $450 million worth of other rate hike requests still being studied. Toledo Edison's request for a $24 million annual hike is among those pending.

Paul M. Smart, vice president of the utility, told the committee the legislation would discriminate against Toledo Edison by denying it any increase "at the same time companies with higher rates were being granted increases."

He conceded the commission earlier this week granted his firm a portion of its request on an emergency, temporary basis. But he said the pending bill "might dictate that the emergency rates which they (the commission) recognized were desperately needed could not be continued." Smart said Edison's rates are "right in the middle" of those charged by other utilities in Ohio.

I. John Reimers, lobbyist for the Ohio Chamber of Commerce, and John Coleman, executive director of the Ohio Municipal League, gave support to a Rhodes Administration bill that would expand Ohio's impacted cities law to provide exemptions to new or expanding industry—located in inner cities—from the state's intangible personal property tax.

Presently, the impacted cities law allows a tax break for real estate only.

Under the pending measure, city legislative authorities could negotiate with developers for a full exemption for the first 12 years, and then renegotiate for a 50 per cent exemption the next eight years. Rhodes said the bill is needed for Ohio to retain its present industries and to compete with other states in the fight for new plants and payrolls.

The problem is expected to be reviewed further by the governor in a speech he has asked to deliver to a joint session next Tuesday. As of today, however, Democratic leaders, skeptical that the GOP governor's motives are political, had not said they would arrange the joint session.

They said Rhodes tried to embarrass the legislature in an earlier speech.

The Senate committee heard only brief testimony on the House-approved constitutional amendment permitting the legislature to set aside six per cent of the state's general revenue fund to issue bonds—without voter approval—for capital construction projects.

Proponents claim it would permit Ohio to construct highways, buildings, and other improvements on an orderly basis without endangering its financial situation or requiring repeated trips to the polls to try to sell voters on individual projects already agreed to by their elected representatives.

Hearings on all the measures are expected to resume early next week.

Mao's body will lie in state in Peking's Great Hall of the People beginning Saturday. The mourning period will last until a memorial rally Sept. 18. The Hsinhua news agency said no foreign dignitaries would be invited. Press coverage thus will come from the official Chinese media and the few foreign reporters permitted to work in China.

For the time being, Premier Hua Kuo-feng, 57, retains the role assigned to him after the death of Chou En-lai last January, that of a compromise leader between the radicals and moderates.

The Mao funeral committee, announced Thursday—was headed by four men — Hua; Wang Hung-wen, the Shanghai "boy wonder" raised by Mao from the factory assembly line to a party vice chairmanship; Chang Chun-chiao, first vice premier and member of the Politburo standing committee, and Yeh Chien-ying, defense minister, party vice chairman and an old Chou crony.

Charles Manson receives letters

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Charles Manson has received about 100 letters a month since his conviction for mass murder in 1971, according to the author of an unpublished book about Manson.

"Manson wants the truth out on himself," said Richard Rubacher, a writer who said his book will give Manson's side of the 1969 Tate-La Bianca murders. Manson was convicted of the slayings and sentenced to prison for life. "Everybody comments on Manson but Manson himself, that's why he sent me the letters and why I'm writing the book."

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Charles Manson has received about 100 letters a month since his conviction for mass murder in 1971, according to the author of an unpublished book about Manson.

"Manson wants the truth out on himself," said Richard Rubacher, a writer who said his book will give Manson's side of the 1969 Tate-La Bianca murders. Manson was convicted of the slayings and sentenced to prison for life. "Everybody comments on Manson but Manson himself, that's why he sent me the letters and why I'm writing the book."

Stock list down again

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock prices headed down today after two days of declines.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks was down about two points in early trading and declining issues took a moderate lead over advances on the New York Stock Exchange.

As usual, trading was active at the start of the session.

Brokers said the market's recent decline has touched off more selling today. Also worrying investors is the slide in sterling and a report that OPEC may raise oil prices significantly on Jan. 1.

Prices among widely watched stocks included American Telephone & Telegraph, down 1/4 to 60 1/2; General Electric, down 1/4 to 53 1/2; and U.S. Steel, off 1/4 at 49 3/4.

On Thursday, the Dow fell 6.07 to 986.87 and losers outnumbered gainers nearly 2 to 1 on the New York Stock Exchange.

The pace of trading slowed to 16.54 million shares from 19.75 million shares on Thursday.

Carter, Ford

argued that the Democratic candidate stands for weakened defense policies that would make it "impossible to have a defense adequate to maintain our freedom and the freedom of our friends."

Carter appeared to be annoyed by Ford's efforts to appear above campaigning, and he responded quickly each time a Ford criticism was relayed to him.

"Nobody can possibly be more strongly committed to a strong defense than I am," he said after hearing of Ford's statement to the Jewish group. He said the issue is not strength, but waste and mismanagement.

"President Ford says there is no waste in the Pentagon budget and I say there is," Carter said. "I'm perfectly willing to let the people of this country decide the issue between us."

He said Republicans in Washington have been part of the problem of Pentagon waste and find it hard to admit the problem exists.

Meanwhile, Ford's running mate, Sen. Bob Dole, was critical of Carter for voicing concern over the size of U.S. arms sales overseas.

And he met with Republican leaders in New York, where he was forced to defend his Senate vote last winter in opposing federal aid to keep the city from bankruptcy.

Carter's running mate, Sen. Walter Mondale, said in Detroit that the Ford administration's education and economic policies are making it difficult for American families to cope.

In a speech to the all-black National Baptists Association of America, Mondale said the nation needs "an administration that puts families and family life No. 1 in policy and priorities of this country."

Policeman in jail

CINCINNATI (AP) — A Cincinnati policeman was ordered jailed for contempt until Monday when the trial of Nathaniel Dixon was scheduled to resume.

Dixon, 23, is charged with aggravated murder and rape in the March 8 death of Verlene Jackson, 45. Police said the victim was tortured and raped.

The trial was interrupted Thursday after Cincinnati Patrolman Joseph Collini failed to appear to testify for the prosecution.

Hamilton County Common Pleas Judge Frank M. Gusweiler ordered Collini jailed for contempt.

The judge made no provision for bond for Collini who turned himself in to Cincinnati police.

The prosecution had planned to conclude its case Thursday.

Four other persons have already been convicted in the slaying.

Collini was one of two officers called to the assault scene prior to Mrs. Jackson's death. The officers had left after being told the victim had fallen while drinking. She died later in the day, police said.

Cooperation proves key factor in communes

By DOLORES BARCLAY
Associated Press Writer
WEST DANBY, N.Y. (AP) — The deep, hollow sound of a goat horn sent a almost pagan sennet through the tall trees. It was morning at Yea God.

From domed, circular huts called yurts and crude teepees and tents emerge the faithful, ready to sing their way into another day of praising the Lord.

Barefoot and bleary-eyed, they assemble in a huge domed meeting place in the middle of the commune for their morning song. They sit on musty Persian rugs, the women in their long cotton dresses; the men in dungaree overalls. They assume the yoga lotus position and sing of love for Jesus.

Yea God is a four-year-old spiritual commune of about 40 members, who practice a handclapping, fill-me-with-the-Spirit brand of Christianity. Neither Yea God nor any other commune can serve as an archetype for all others. Some communes have rather traditional middle-class values and living patterns. Others have a back-to-the-earth flavor. Still others are politically motivated. And some are based on religion.

But all communes have one thing in common: the people, living so closely together, must cooperate if the community is to survive.

Yea God is trying to survive on religion. Their 39-year-old leader is a tall, lanky former insurance executive who calls himself Gil.

Gil, in turn, has given everyone else on the commune names. They are Ocean, Vast and Rock; Radiant, Bumblee and Love; Twinkle, Baby and Glory; Glow, Health and Virtue; Christian, Angel and Exquisite. They don't use their real names.

"The chipmunks eat from our hands and the chickadees land on our fingers," said Gil, rocking in an outdoor swing whose seat was once a pew in a church. "It's more important to be in a spiritual sense than to have prosperity."

It was late morning. The singing session was over and commune dwellers were off to work in the vegetable garden or to meditate in the woods. Glory, Gil's assistant, arrived with a platter of overripe melons. The Yea God members often eat overripe fruit because they can get it free from the highway produce truckers.

"Our lifestyle is a lot cheaper than you think," said Gil, who punctuates his statements every now and then with a soft "Praise the Lord."

He said it cost less than $1,000 a year for one person to live on the commune. The vegetables and fruit they grow they consume. Donations of money, clothing, food and other goods from visitors and relatives also help.

"We have no restrictions here, except our guests and members must be receptive to love," Gil said in a voice barely above a whisper.

No one at Yea God shouts or speaks louder than necessary to be heard. Even the children speak in hushes.

Health and Christian and a dozen or so other adults hover over the vegetable garden, pulling weeds, picking greens and tomatoes that are ready and tending to the plants so they will produce well.

Rebe and two others eye the base construction for the commune's new two-story laundry, bathhouse and child care center. They are laying pipes for plumbing.

The horn sounds again. It is time for the women to bathe. Water is heated, scrub brushes, water buckets and ladles are lined up in front of the stalls. Sunshine and other small children are put in large tubs, filled with bubbles. The children are unmindful of the nakedness of the adult women.

An hour later the horn sounds again. This time the men bathe.

Clothes are changed, and the Yea God people buzz about waiting for the trucks that will carry them to church that night. Neighboring farmers finally drive up with their pickups. The commune people hop on the back, and the trucks chug off down the dirt roads.

The church is the St. John Finnish Evangelical Lutheran Church in West Van Etten. It is to be a special evening service, featuring the singing of a Christian rock group from North Carolina called The Bridge.

On the bumpy, dusty journey down the hill to the church the commune people turn their faces to the wind and start to sing hymns. Soon they are clapping and stomping in true revival fashion. They are happy.

"Jesus is alive," sings 19-year-old Vast from Brazil.

"Jesus is glory," sings 20-year-old Glow from Syracuse, N.Y.

The church meeting is a community affair. Women from other parishes have brought home baked cookies and breads. The Yea God people donate popcorn and wheat bread cookies.

"People really touch you a lot and become part of your life," Glow says as she sips fruit punch. "That's what I've learned and that's what I like most about being here."

Glow said she was working in a hospital in Syracuse and finally could no longer function. "Life in the city was very harrowing," she said. "I needed the country for peace, trees, flowers and for time to gather my thoughts."

There was much singing and shouting and testifying at the church meeting. And when it was over commune folk as well as community folk smiled at each other and prayed together.

But some Yea God people are disillusioned.

"I'm leaving tomorrow for home," said 20-year-old Exquisite from Connecticut. "I want to be able to serve by doing something and not just by praying."

Others plan to leave the commune because they say they are bored.

"The ideal would be to have a part-time job in town in social work and spend two days on the commune," said 27-year-old Good, whose real name is Jim. "I find I want to have the peacefulness of Yea God and the excitement of town."

Opinion And Comment

No wrong — except lawbreaking

Rep. Frank Horton of New York has been jailed for speeding and driving while intoxicated. The speeding was extreme; state police say the chase got up to 105 miles an hour at times before they caught the errant congressman. The judge took a serious view of the offense; besides sending Horton to jail he fined him $200 and lifted his driver's license.

Even so, one might be inclined not to make too much of the case - on the customary well-we're-all-human basis - were it not for Horton's remarks about his escapade. What he said shortly after his arrest on July 18 is worth reiterating, though not in a laudatory spirit.

The New York congressman argued that what had happened was "personally upsetting, but I didn't do anything wrong as far as my constituency is concerned. I had a few drinks and I was speeding and I'm sorry about it." It's nice that Horton is sorry. But the implication that the episode had nothing to do with his role as a public servant is simple nonsense.

This was not a case of a man, caught driving a little fast, who pulls over shamefacedly when he hears the siren and sees those flashing lights behind him. That could happen to anyone. In this case what evidently happened is that the congressman drunkenly pushed the gas pedal to the floor and reached insanely dangerous speeds trying to elude his pursuers.

Horton's drunkenness and speeding were not minor breaches of the law; they were gross violations which endangered the lives of others. Members of Congress are sworn to uphold the law. Only a distorted view of that obligation would enable a congressman, caught in a conspicuous violation of the law, to say: "I didn't do anything wrong as far as my constituency is concerned."

A WORD EDGEWISE By John P. Roche

Politics without illusion

At some point a political columnist has to decide whether he is an analyst or an advance man. This is particularly true if he has extremely strong convictions about the appropriate course of public policy and wants desperately to believe that, deep inside, the Democratic (or Republican) candidate for president shares that set of values. With a little Transcendental Meditation it often becomes possible to see your man as the veritable incarnation of liberal (or conservative) purpose, and, having deceived yourself, you can honestly and sincerely crusade for the True Faith.

Perhaps because of my Augustinian bias, perhaps because I have taught American history and politics for almost 30 years, or even as an outcome of the scars received in long service in the political trenches, I take an extremely sceptical view of this joyous process of autohypnosis. Also, in candor, I learned the hard way: in 1952 I predicted to my Haverford College students that Adlai Stevenson would wallop Ike. In retrospect, I simply went off my analytical rocker, but they respected my belief and settled for a midnight election concert outside our window - and the gift of a stuffed crow.

Your Horoscope

BY FRANCES DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 11

ARIES (March 21 to April 20)

Better-than-average influences, but there's still plenty of work to be done in various areas — to smooth out kinks, coordinate forces in better fashion.

TAURUS (April 21 to May 21)

Employ the techniques successfully used in prior efforts. But do not hesitate to update plans and vitalize your approach. Tact in personal affairs!

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21)

Some complexities indicated. In all situations, be sure you have the facts before making decisions. Travel and communications favored.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23)

Avoid the illogical and close your eyes to the dubious schemes of others — no matter how attractively they may be presented. Let your head rule your heart.

LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23)

Influences somewhat restrictive. Neither speak nor act in haste lest you have cause for regret. Maintain high principles, but avoid dissension, antagonism.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept.)

You should encounter few obstacles now, but be on guard against "little" errors, miscalculations.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23)

Some confusion in day's early hours can be cleared up if you just roll with the punches. Trying to crash your way through will only worsen matters.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 22)

Stars now promise benefits from past efforts as well as surprising achievement in some presently stubborn area. You can disarm others by a frank approach to issues.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21)

You now have an above-average chance to get a footing in an area long sought, a project long desired. But don't rush in without preparation. Discuss angles with experts.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)

Sudden, unexpected action, abrupt speech or unconventional action could get you into difficulties and disturb the smooth sailing you could otherwise have now. Be alert, discreet.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)

Especially favored now: travel, outdoor pursuits and children's activities. Combine a sense of humor with maximum effort to make this a memorable day.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20)

A day of mixed influences. Some uncertainties may prove irksome, but don't fight shadows. Clear thinking needed.

YOU BORN TODAY are highly endowed intellectually — skillful, clever, very shrewd. You are extremely versatile, ambitious and have a keen zest for competition. Endowed with a gift for words, you would make an outstanding writer, lecturer or teacher. You could succeed as lawyer or statesman and here your sharp articulateness, coupled with your sharp critical faculties, would make you a feared opponent in debate, a master of disputation. You are more of a leader than many others of your Sign and may take to politics or the espousal of "causes" and movements for community improvement. Other natural outlets for your talents: science, music, architecture.

Minimal flu shot reaction predicted

By ROBERT E. MILLER
Associated Press Writer
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohioans shouldn't be concerned about side effects from swine flu immunizations unless they are allergic to eggs and egg products, or unless they have reacted to flu shots in the past, state health officials say.

Health Director John Ackerman said state and local officials are geared up to explain the possibilities of adverse results. But he predicted they will be minimal in Ohio's statewide inoculation program which starts in early October.

Ackerman said early testing of the swine flu vaccine, made from fertilized chicken eggs, showed only about four of every hundred recipients had adverse reactions.

"These side effects usually involved a slight fever, and maybe some aches and pains," he said. He added that the effects from the swine flu inoculations were about the same as those from previous types of flu shots. He stressed that none of those has been serious. "There never has been a fatality from a flu shot," he said.

Ackerman said the department has prepared a pamphlet entitled "Influenza 76, What It's All About", and that it is being made available to the general public by local health agencies.

In the publication, he said, is a warning that persons who are allergic to egg and egg products probably would suffer adverse reactions, and should not receive the vaccine. He said these types of individuals "make up a very small percentage of the population."

The director confirmed that while many Ohioans will enjoy the benefit of virtually pain free inoculation "guns" during the statewide program, others—apparently in rural areas and small towns—will have to endure the traditional syringes and needles.

Ackerman said the state has about 50 of the guns, and that some local departments have them. He also said arrangements are being made to borrow more from the federal government.

But he said the available guns will be allocated in the heavier populated areas where the greatest numbers of persons are to be vaccinated. "It just isn't practical to have them in an area where you only have a few people waiting," he said.

Ackerman said department officials still hope the statewide program can be completed in about two months, despite a recent curtailment by the federal government of Ohio's initial vaccine allocation. It was cut from 7 million doses down to 3.2 million.

Yesterday's Cryptquote: IF A MAN WORKS HARD AND LIVES RIGHT, HE CAN'T HOLD HIMSELF BACK. — LAWRENCE WELK

Dear Abby:

ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

Forget the noose and cut him down

DEAR ABBY: I recently met a man I thought was together. He's 29, handsome, a smooth talker and single. The relationship went fine until I caught him in a few lies, then I did a little detective work.

I became suspicious when he told me he had a "weekend" job. I discovered that he is engaged to another woman. He told her if anyone contacted her and asked her any questions about him, not to give out any information because some "nymphomaniac" was chasing him!

Meanwhile, he checked up on me to find out what my assets are. (I'm a widow and well enough off, so I don't have to work, but I'm not rich enough to support him, which I'm sure he had in mind.)

Should I let him know I am on to him? Or give him enough rope to let him hang himself?

DISGUSTED IN DIXIE

DEAR DISGUSTED: Never mind the rope. He's already hung himself where you are concerned. Cut him down.

DEAR ABBY: My 13-month-old child, Pam, is teething, and she chews and bites everything in sight. Pam was crawling around on the floor with my sister's little boy who is 8 months old, and she bit him. Naturally the boy was frightened, so he screamed.

My mother-in-law who was there at the time became furious and ordered her 9-year-old to bite Pam. The girl bit Pam on the arm, leaving teeth marks, and Pam screamed so hard, she nearly went into hysterics. (Pam didn't leave any teeth marks on her cousin.)

When I told my husband about this, he sided with his mother, saying it was an old-fashioned remedy for breaking children from the habit of biting.

My mother is old-fashioned in many ways, and she said she's never heard of this remedy. Have you? Thanks for your opinion.

PAM'S MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: No. But I have heard that a human bite can be more dangerous than an animal bite if the skin is broken. TEETHING CHILDREN SHOULD BE PROVIDED WITH TEETHING RINGS NOT COUSINS.

DEAR ABBY: My youngest daughter is going to be married soon. Her father is completely paralyzed and can't give her away. I was teasing her and said that I would give her away, and she said she would love it because she has two brothers and she would rather not choose between them.

The lady who directs weddings said it would be all right. I need your opinion. Should I give my daughter away? Or would it look silly?

MOTHER OF THE BRIDE

DEAR MOTHER: It's your daughter's day. Let her do as she wishes. I think it's a wonderful idea.

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Friday, September 10, the 254th day of 1976. There are 112 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1813, an American naval force under Oliver Perry defeated the British in the battle of Lake Erie in the War of 1812.

On this date —

In 1608, John Smith was elected governor of the Jamestown colony of Virginia.

In 1775, five thousand Acadians were banished from Nova Scotia.

In 1846, Elias Howe of Spencer, Mass., received a patent on his sewing machine.

In 1898, Empress Elizabeth of Austria-Hungary was assassinated by an anarchist in Geneva.

In 1907, the British colony of New Zealand became a dominion.

In 1939, Canada declared war against Germany.

Ten years ago: More than 3,000 men, using planes and other equipment, fought a giant forest fire in California.

Five years ago: South Vietnam's President Thieu said he would step down if he received less than 50 per cent of the vote in a South Vietnamese election.

One year ago: The Army court-martial conviction of William Calley, for the murder of 22 civilians at My Lai, was reinstated by a federal appeals court.

Today's birthdays: Golfer Arnold Palmer is 47. Former baseball star Roger Maris is 42.

Thought for today: Piling up knowledge is as bad as piling up money. You have to begin sometime to kick around what you know. — Poet Robert Frost.

Bicentennial footnote: Two hundred years ago, the British were occupying islands in New York City's East River and this was seen as a certain sign that the British attack on the city would come soon.

Miss Langen, Mr. Anders to wed tonight

Wedding plans are complete for the marriage of Miss Colleen Marie Langen and Steven Edward Anders, which will be an event of this evening (Friday) in St. Colman Catholic Church. The Rev. Father David Petry will officiate for the open-church ceremony.

Miss Langen has asked Miss Cynthia Lee of Washington C.H. to be her maid of honor. Bridesmaids will be the Misses Katherine and Regina Langen, sisters of the bride-elect, Miss Suzanne Milburn of Circleville, and Miss Julie Armour of Cincinnati, cousin of the prospective bridegroom. Miss Stacy Conner of Clarkburg will be the flower girl.

Mr. Anders has asked Mr. Michael Whiteside of Dayton to serve as best man. The ushers will be Carl Anders II of Toledo and Doug Anders of Newark, brothers of the prospective groom, John Wood of Cleveland, and Kevin Langen of Washington C.H., brother of the bride-elect, Mr. Jim Smith, also of Washington C.H., will serve as lector.

Music preceding and during the marriage ceremony will be provided by Mr. and Mrs. H. Keith Conner of Clarkburg and Mrs. Carol Wells of Nelsonville, friends of the couple.

A reception will be held in Washington Country Club immediately following the ceremony.

Mrs. Gibeaut hostess to class members

Mrs. John Gibeaut was hostess when 13 members of the Bloomingburg United Methodist Women assembled in her home for the September meeting. Mrs. Eli Craig presided during the business session.

Mrs. Craig read the poem "Happiness." She also announced several dates to remember: Sept. 18 — Columbus-South District annual meeting to be held in Grace United Methodist Church, Washington C.H.; Sept. 21 — a covered dish dinner at the Bloomingburg United Methodist Church at 6:30 p.m. when the program will be presented by the new Zonaires Quartet of Greenfield; Sept. 25 — Fish Fry at the Town Hall beginning at 4 p.m.; Sept. 29 — Bus tour to Jackson area ministries; and Oct. 16 — West Ohio Methodist Women's annual meeting at Ohio Northern University, Ada, Ohio. The theme is "In God We Trust"; and Nov. 6, the annual bazaar at the church.

Mrs. Fred Oswald presented devotions based on Philippians, "The Beauty of Selflessness," and the poem "Let Us Give."

The program was presented by Mrs. Robert E. Huff, entitled "Simple Pleasure." She also read a prayer "Courage."

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Wayne Bloomer, and Mrs. John Roberts to the Rev. and Mrs. Harold J. Messmer, Mrs. Craig, Mrs. Elton Elliott, Mrs. Lawrence Garinger, Mrs. Huff, Mrs. Charley Hughes, Mrs. Oswald, Miss Florence Purcell, Mrs. Laura Wilson, Mrs. John Gibeaut, Mrs. Wayne Bloomer and Mrs. Forest Haines.

Alpha Theta plans programs

Alpha Theta Chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha Sorority held its meeting in the home of Mrs. Fred Zechman. Mrs. Jerry Hoppes, president, opened the meeting in ritualistic form.

Mrs. John Bernard, vice president, led a discussion concerning plans for the fall rush parties. New officers also discussed plans and programs for the coming year.

A husband's party including a weiner roast, hayride and square dance is being planned for Sept. 26. Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Hoppes will be hosts for this event.

Mrs. Clyde Cramer presented to the sorority an Award Certificate sent by St. Jude Hospital. This year's total donation from the annual Bike Ride was $3,200. This brings the total to a $15,000 from Alpha Theta.

Gifts to be purchased for the children's ward at Fayette Memorial Hospital will be the responsibility of Mrs. John Gruber and Mrs. John Bernard.

All members participated in the social program by sharing events of their summer activities and vacations.

A dessert course was served by Mrs. Zechman and co-hostess Mrs. Sherry Vrettos, to members Mrs. Mike Barker, Mrs. Bernard, Mrs. Cramer, Mrs. Jeanette Gibbs, Mrs. Gruber, Mrs. Fred Hoppes, Mrs. Jerry Hoppes, Mrs. Ray Louder, Mrs. Charles McIlvaine, Mrs. Bill Marting, Mrs. Jack Merriman, Mrs. Jack Moats, Mrs. John Morris, Mrs. Jim Oughterson, Mrs. Tom Rankin, Mrs. Ron Ratliff, Mrs. Ron Warner and Mrs. Joan Wisler.

REFINISHING CLASS TO BEGIN SEPT. 22 & 23

Have you ever wanted to learn to refinish a piece of wood furniture, but you felt you didn't have the know how to tackle it by yourself? This fall you will have the opportunity to join in a class series on refinishing sponsored by the Fayette County Extension Service. Three weekly two-hour classes will be taught by myself and Willard Rutledge, a local craftsman. A morning series and an evening series will be offered. The morning series will be held on September 22, September 29, and October 6 from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. at the Extension Office meeting room, 319 South Fayette Street. The evening class series will be held on September 23, September 30, and October 7 from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. at the Extension Office meeting room, 319 South Fayette Street.

The classes will be taught in a workshop manner with class participants working on their own small piece of furniture. A picture, chair or other similar item would be suitable for the class, because the items will have to be carried up a flight of stairs. Due to the type of class the registration will be limited to 12 couples for each series. Stop by the office at 319 South Fayette Street to enroll. The registration fee is $3.00. For the first class materials needed will include paint and varnish remover, denatured alcohol solvent, old paint brush, stiff bristled scrub brush, putty knife, orange stick or wooden meat skewer, twine, 000 steel wool, old toothbrush rubber gloves, newspapers, covered metal containers for remover and alcohol (such as coffee cans), and several cleaning cloths.

WHY REFINISH?

Almost every house contains interesting and beautiful pieces of stained and varnished or painted furniture that have seen better days. You may have an antique stored away or a cherished piece that needs its original beauty restored. Perhaps the furniture that you use everyday is beginning to show marks of long service. It is easy to renew old furniture and actually make it more beautiful than ever with today's products designed for finishing furniture is a simplified operation.

Many wise homemakers find it smart and thrifty to refinish old pieces or to purchase and finish unpainted furniture. You will find a great deal of satisfaction and pride in your accomplishment.

Three factors are required if you want the best results — patience, time and energy. Of course, you also will have some expenses for supplies and equipment.

Before you begin, ask yourself these questions:

1. Is the piece worth refinishing? Is it made of good wood and well-constructed with pleasing lines and proportions? Will it be useful in my home?
2. Am I willing to give the time and effort necessary to obtain satisfactory results?
3. Do I have an area in which to do the job?

Choral Society - Cecilians set rehearsal

At the close of the Cecilian-Choral Society rehearsal Monday evening, music director W. Warren Parker will remain to coach any soprano soloist interested in singing the arias in Vivaldi's "Gloria" which is to have a public performance on Sunday, Nov. 21. The oratorio contains a duet for two sopranos, "We Praise Thee" and a soprano solo "God the Father, King of Heaven."

The Concert of the 18th and 20th Centuries work has been scheduled for an early date (Nov. 21), so that there will be ample time in the ensuing weeks for Christmas preparation and in the separate church choirs.

All area church choir singers and others are invited to sing in this "Festival of Choirs."

The next rehearsal is planned for 8 p.m. Sept. 13, in First Presbyterian Church.

Joint meeting of circles held

The Combined Circles of the Madison Mills United Methodist Women met recently in the home of Mrs. Leland Dorn.

Mrs. Raymond Anderson, president, opened the meeting by reading a poem, entitled, "Letters." During the course of the meeting, the unit voted to increase its pledge to Missions for 1977. Mrs. Gary Hidy reported on the prayer partners program in the church. Mrs. Hidy, chairman, stated that new prayer partners had been drawn for another year.

Mrs. Anderson and Mrs. Anne Dorn are planning to participate in the bus trip to the Jackson Area Ministries on Wednesday, September 29. The Jackson Area Ministries is the "second mile giving" project of the United Methodist Women of the Columbus South District this year.

Mrs. Hidy also reminded members to remember the patients at the Deaneview Nursing Home on their birthdays. Members were also reminded of the Church Ball Team appreciation dinner which will be held this Sunday evening at the Church at 6 p.m. A free will offering will be taken. At 7 p.m. slides will be shown on "The Shroud." This evening's activities are open to the public. Subscriptions to Response and New World Outlook Magazine may be renewed by notifying Mrs. Paul Huff.

Final plans were made for "Family Night" which will be held at the church on Sunday, September 26. There will be a carry-in meal at 6 p.m. The program for the evening will be Mrs. Esther Frye, a well-known chalk artist from Xenia. This program which will be open to everyone at 8 p.m.

These members present voted to again sponsor the UNICEF Drive which will be held the latter part of October. Complete details will be announced at a later date.

The following officers were elected for the year 1977: President — Mrs. Anderson; vice-president — Mrs. Harold King; secretary — Mrs. John Delay; treasurer — Mrs. Huff; Christian personhood — Mrs. Hidy; supportive community — Mrs. Esther Schlichter; Christian social involvement — Mrs. Barbara Recob; Christian global concerns — Mrs. Thelma LeBeau; and program resources — Mrs. King.

The nominating committee members for 1977 are: Mrs. Delay, chairman, Mrs. Pauline Dorn and Mrs. Huff; news reporter — Mrs. Hidy; Mary Martha Circle Leader — Mrs. Anne Dorn; Shining Cross Circle Leader — Mrs. Lavonne Melvin.

The meeting was closed with the repeating of the Mizpah benediction and refreshments were served by the hostess.

In 1826, Cincinnati, the "Queen City of the West," had a population of 16,000, and with 25,000 population in 1830 was the largest city in the west. It boasted of four market houses, ten newspapers, two of them dailies; a college and a medical school, three boatyards and several plants for manufacturing flour, liquors and cotton and woolen goods. Meat packing also was becoming an important industry.

Washing machines, some of the compression type, were advertised and demonstrated in Cincinnati as early as 1820, but never came into general use. Ohio women, long after pioneer days, laundered heavy clothing and bedding by the "rub and bile" method. Women used soft soap made from wood ash lye through many favorite recipes.

Payrolls up for Ohioans

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Metal products firms and automobile producers led a 10 per cent increase in worker payroll advances in the state in July.

Researchers at Ohio State University, reporting the increase Wednesday, also said payrolls were 10 per cent higher for the first seven months of the year, compared to the same period in 1975.

Production worker employment rose 1 per cent from July 1975, according to the university's Center for Business and Economic Research.

Leading the payroll advances were metal products firms, up 28 per cent, and vehicles, up 22 per cent. Rubber producer payrolls dropped 22 per cent, caused in part by a rubber workers strike that began in April. Lumber products firms were off 21 per cent.

Granville, Ohio, was founded in 1805 by settlers from the Massachusetts town of the same name.

Busy business season

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — It's all over folks, the reign of rest is now behind us, replaced by the dynasty of demand, of do-it now-and-don't-dally.

Labor Day is done, and now we get down to brass tacks. No more loafing, except for a wistful sigh about how did it go so fast. This is the busy season.

All the business conferences that should have been spaced throughout the year are now crowded onto the calendar. Everyone is inviting everyone else to something or other. School begins. Politics get mean.

The car dealers announce the new fall models. The advertising departments plan their budgets. The new TV shows begin. Magazines get thicker. Middle management execs plan their big move up the corporate pyramid.

Baseball refuses to give up the calendar and football makes Xs all over it. The weather too gets busy and confused, chilling World Series fans and scorching those at the homecoming game.

Only the oldtimers can enjoy the Indian Summer laziness at the resorts, intentionally taking their vacations when others weren't avoiding the crowds, the confusion and the high costs.

But back at the office and plant it's all business. The memos said from one department to another. Guilty from a summer of sailing and golf, the president directs a crisp demand to the chief financial officer, and that begins the chain that ends with you. Noses get closer to the desk.

It is a fearsome season of the unexpected. Urgent reminders the boss left unattended all summer suddenly become the subject of frantic demands that usually begin, "Whatever happened to ... " But you've forgotten, of course.

Your spouse calls. The children need new gym uniforms. Is there any money in the checking account? Of course there isn't; it was all spent during the summer. Yes, you'll do what you can at lunchtime, a loan or something.

By some savage rule or habit of human conduct, this is the time when the insurance agent may announce that your automobile bill will be a bit higher for the next year, say a couple of hundred dollars or so.

But now that the time is really here the circumstances don't seem to be right.

No, this is a time when everything speeds up but the financial fuel. The company isn't doing as well as it should, says the boss, and we've all got to pitch in and get things moving again. It's time for work.

Huge investments in Africa pushed

WASHINGTON (AP) — American and British leaders plan to encourage huge investments of Western money in a future black-ruled Rhodesia as part of their effort to stabilize turbulent southern Africa, senior diplomats say.

Their aim is to insure an independent black-ruled Rhodesia that would not follow nearby Angola's trail toward reliance on the Soviet bloc.

Sources said the project, still in its formative stage, would parallel proposals for another fund insuring the financial and political security of Rhodesia's 270,000 white settlers if and when the country's six million blacks take power.

This insurance fund totaling up to $2 billion would be designed to safeguard the assets of Rhodesia's whites. This fund would provide compensation for those who, after a defined period, might decide to emigrate or who may be forced to sell their properties after black rule is established.

The American-British plan for an investment fund to help black Rhodesia was portrayed by sources here as an evenhanded effort to balance the offer to Rhodesia's white minority. Yet it appears to pack wide implications.

Rhodesia, for instance, is easily the world's major source of scarce chrome and provides other coveted minerals like copper, manganese, and gold, not to mention agricultural products like tobacco and corn.

British, American and other foreign companies have prized interests in the country.

The Ford administration and British Prime Minister James Callaghan's government are not finding it easy to convince likeminded Western nations to pledge meaningful contributions to these programs.

Word of the wider American-British plan came as U.S. Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger prepared to undertake a new mission to Africa in quest of an accord designed to head off dangers of a black-white race war in the region.

Kissinger's new try at shuttle diplomacy is expected to begin with the president of Tanzania, Julius Nyerere, proceed then to President Kenneth Kaunda's Zambia, possibly take in Mozambique and Botswana and wind up in Pretoria, South Africa.

There he may meet Rhodesian Premier Ian Smith, who broke from Britain in a unilateral declaration of independence 11 years ago. If things go well between Vorster and Smith in Pretoria, next week, however, a Kissinger appearance in Salisbury, Rhodesia, is a possibility.

Traffic Court

A Washington C.H. man received a 10-day jail term and a $100 fine during Thursday traffic session of Washington C.H. Municipal Court.

Monty C. McConkey, 20, of 531 E. Elm St., received the jail sentence and fine, levied by Municipal Court Judge John P. Case, for driving a motor vehicle while under suspension.

Robert A. Rohne, 21, of Cincinnati, was fined $300, sentenced to six days in jail, and had his driver's license suspended for 90 days for driving while under the influence of alcohol.

James P. Egan, 55, of Gahanna, failed to appear in court for a driving while under the influence of alcohol hearing, a forfeited $350 in bond money.

For speeding, John W. Scott, 30, of Columbus, was fined $30.

Kenneth E. Legg, 36, of Cincinnati, was fined $25 for speeding.

THE FOLLOWING $25 speeding bond waivers were accepted Thursday in Washington C.H. Municipal Court: James P. Flynn, 20, of Terrace Park; George W. Staten, 29, of Cincinnati; Robert E. Jodoin, 43, of Barboursburg; Samuel C. Isaacs, 23, of Fort Ord, Calif.

For a defective exhaust charge, Steven R. Wilson, 19, of 131 Laurel Road forfeited $25 in bond money.

Future U.S. role with China studied

WASHINGTON (AP) — The deaths within the last eight months of China's two strongest proponents of détente with the United States have left analysts here wondering about the durability of Washington's role in China's balance-of-power strategy.

Within hours after the announcement of the death of Chinese leader Mao Tse-tung, Secretary of State Henry Kissinger issued an optimistic statement about the future of U.S. relations with Peking, but he also indicated he has some apprehensions.

At one point, he told reporters on Thursday that it is "extremely difficult" to predict what China will do now, but moments later he said he is "sure that from the Chinese side, the basic lines of policy will continue to be pursued."

Kissinger was one of the chief architects of the move that, in 1971, ended more than two decades of hostility between the two countries. That policy was shaped in cooperation with Mao and Prime Minister Chou En-lai, who died in January.

Kissinger, whose comments appeared to be directed primarily at Peking, emphasized on several occasions that mutual interests are more important than personalities in formulating policy.

Therefore, he said, "the main lines of policy are likely to be continued." He pledged a continued American effort to normalize relations with Peking.

Since that effort began, the two countries have exchanged liaison officers and there has been a substantial increase in trade and frequent cultural and educational exchanges.

Lately, however, there has been little movement toward normalization and there have been reports — disputed by Kissinger — that Peking is growing impatient with the slow process.

Significantly, Kissinger said that although there could be a modification of tactics, China's long-standing rift with the Soviet Union likely will continue.

Other analysts, however, believe that Mao's death raises the best opportunity in many years for an easing of tensions between Moscow and Peking.

Aside from policy issues, Kissinger, who had met with Mao five times, called Mao an "eminent forceful personality" and said that "nothing he said was ever without purpose."

Kissinger said of his talks with the Chinese leader: "These conversations tended to be rather complex and rather illuminating."

President Ford called Mao "a giant figure" whose "actions profoundly affected the development of his country."

Medical terms prove confusing

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Feeling ill after being described as SOB? Did someone send you to the ICU when you didn't want to see anyone?

The Ohio Nurses Association decided to help those who are ill and listening to doctors banter about ailments.

SOB is still a bad term in hospital-lingo. It's short of breath. ICU means intensive care unit where most visitors aren't allowed.

And, if they send you into the hospital for a GI series, the military has nothing to do with you. Instead, you get a series of gastrointestinal x-rays.

Developmental reading course set by college

WILMINGTON, Ohio — Wilmington College will offer an undergraduate, upper division course in developmental reading this fall quarter at the south campus of Southern State General and Technical College, in Fincastle, Ohio.

Southern State College will allow the use of its facilities for this course, another example of the cooperation between Southern State and Wilmington.

The course, Education 312, Developmental Reading (secondary), will be offered each Monday evening, beginning September 20, from 7 to 9:30 p.m. George Winsor, professor of education at Wilmington College, will be the instructor.

Tuition for the three-hour (quarter) college credit course will be $35 per credit hour, or $105 for the full fall quarter. Tuition payment and registration will take place at the first class session.

The course has been designed to assist secondary teachers to improve their teaching of reading skills to students, although it would be valuable for elementary teachers as well.

According to Forrest Moran, director of the division of education at Wilmington College, acquisition of such skills by public school teachers is becoming a necessity as state standards for teacher-certification reach higher levels. Furthermore, secondary classroom teachers in any subject recognize that they have students with limited reading ability.

Moran added that persons interested in learning more about the course may call him at 513-382-6661, Extension 276, or Dr. Vivian Franz, dean at Southern State College, at 513-695-0700 (south campus).

Carter, Glenn back 'sunset' bill

By TOM DIEMER
Associated Press Writer
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Democratic Presidential candidate Jimmy Carter and Sen. John Glenn have joined forces in support of "sunset" legislation that would shut down federal agencies that can't justify their existence.

Carter and Glenn were all smiles Thursday in their first public appearance together here since Glenn was bypassed in favor of Sen. Walter Mondale, D-Minn., in the naming of a Democratic vice presidential candidate.

Carter called the former astronaut "one of the great leaders of our country" and said he deliberately chose to endorse the sunset bill at a Port Columbus airport news conference in deference to Glenn.

Sen. Edmund Muskie, D-Maine, and Glenn are cosponsors of a bill that would force most government agencies to prove their worth every five years or face extinction.

"If elected, I will actively support a strong sunset law, covering most of the bureaucratic establishment and covering virtually all tax expenditures as well," Carter said. "I want a law which will shut down out-dated agencies and programs once and for all."

The bill would permit a cutoff of federal funds for existing agencies, deemed unworthy, and require new programs to have a date set for their existence.

"The instinct for bureaucratic survival, the political inertia which keeps old agencies afloat, is too strong to be overcome except by drastic procedures," Carter said.

The candidate was greeted warmly by several thousand during a brief downtown walking tour and later by a smaller group at a backyard reception. But at both locations he was heckled by a small band of antiabortion demonstrators, chanting "life, life, life."

Carter has said repeatedly that he personally opposes abortion on moral grounds, but would not support a U.S. Constitutional amendment to outlaw it.

"This is a very serious problem for me as a candidate," he conceded. "This campaign issue is legitimate. I sympathize with the pro-life demonstrators who hold their placards and shout 'life'."

But he said he thought most voters respected his opinion on the issue and added that it was unfair to characterize the controversy as "myself against the Church."

"It is not a Catholic issue. There are many Catholics who do not favor a constitutional amendment," he said.

Glenn was cautiously optimistic about the former Georgia governor's chances of winning in Ohio. As "Peanut 1" flew skyward, he told newsmen: "I think we can carry Ohio, but it's certainly not going to be any shoo-in. We can't be apathetic about it."

Indian jet hijacked

ISLAMABAD, Pakistan (AP) — An Indian Airlines Boeing 737 was hijacked over India early today and forced to land at Lahore, Pakistan, where officials said all 77 passengers were allowed to leave the jetliner unharmed.

Pakistani officials said the plane was refueled at Lahore, and there were unofficial reports that it had taken off for the Middle East.

Later, Israel Radio, quoting radio monitors and airport sources in Tel Aviv, said the jetliner was approaching the Arab sheikdom of Bahrain and was trying to establish contact with the airport tower there.

The reports from Lahore airport indicated that apparently some or all of the six-member crew remained on board the aircraft.

There was no official word on the number of hijackers, but sources in Islamabad and in New Delhi said there was only one.

GOP eyes platform

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Republican officials have invited "interested individuals and organizations" to testify before the Ohio GOP Platform Committee Sept. 20.

State Chairman Kent B. McGough and House Minority Leader Charles F. Kurfess welcomed both in-person and written testimony.

"Ohio currently faces many problems which must be the business of our platform committee as we set priorities that will shape this great state's future," McGough and Kurfess said in a joint statement. "To do this job well, we need the comments of Ohio's citizens and organizations of all types."

Those wishing to testify in person were asked to contact Republican state headquarters here.

The state GOP holds its convention Sept. 21.

Heavy rain in California

By The Associated Press

Flash flood watches covered much of southern California this morning, including mountains and desert areas. Hurricane Kathleen, off Baja California, intensified and is expected to provide low clouds and heavy rains through tomorrow. The hurricane was moving 25 miles per hour to the north-northwest.

Thunderstorms along the east slopes of the Colorado mountains were expected to continue this morning. Campers were advised to stay alert for rapidly rising streams.

Thunderstorms and rain showers were scattered along the Gulf of Mexico coast, the Appalachians and lower Great Lakes.

Skies were clear along the Atlantic coast. Clear or partly cloudy skies reached from the west portion of the Ohio valley through most of the Mississippi valley, across the north half of the plains and from most of the Rockies to the north half of the Pacific coast.

There were clear skies with near-freezing temperatures along parts of the upper Great Lakes.

Overnight temperatures ranged from 87 in Bakersfield, Calif., to 36 in Big Piney, Wyo., and Butte, Mont.

Judge sentences theft defendant

A Washington C.H. man was found guilty of possession of marijuana and petty theft Thursday during a non-trial session of Washington C.H. Municipal Court.

Monty C. McConkey, 20, of 531 E. Elm St., was fined $75 for possession of marijuana and was given a jail term of five days and a $50 fine for petty theft.

Earlier this week, McConkey had pumped $5 worth of gas into his car and left the Sohio Stop 35, U.S. 35 and I-71, without paying for the fuel. Later arrested by Washington C.H. police officers, marijuana was found in his possession.

Product liability too broad?

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Fears are rising among product liability insurers and their clients that they are being presented with much the same situation they maintain is responsible for the high cost of medical malpractice insurance.

That situation, they say, is one in which the social and legal systems stretch the limits of manufacturers' responsibilities, and permit settlements of a size unknown just a few years ago.

Insurance industry officials say the consequences are potentially enormous and include these possibilities:

—That some insurers might be forced out of business or, at least, compelled to limit greatly the amount of coverage offered.

—That some smaller manufacturers might be forced to go without product liability insurance, thereby running the risk of having ruinous claims made against them directly.

—That prices for some products might be forced higher to cover the costs of insurance and claims.

—That companies will be reluctant to develop new products, thus slowing the innovation process that often raises productivity and serves to keep prices more stable than otherwise they might be.

The entire property-liability insurance industry, of which product liability insurance is a part, has had two disastrous years in a row in 1974 and 1975. In the former it suffered an underwriting loss of $2.6 billion. Last year the deficit jumped to $4.5 billion.

Reducing these losses, and perhaps permitting some insurers to remain in business, has been a relatively improved experience in the stock market since late in 1974. Nevertheless, the industry maintains that many insurers have gone out of business.

Industry officials now say that some manufacturers might join the insurers in going out of business.

T. Lawrence Jones, president of the American Insurance Association, estimates that hundreds and even thousands of small manufacturers and wholesalers may become non-competitive if a solution isn't developed.

Loeb, Rhoades & Co., the investment banker, comments that several large chemical companies now face 100 or more cases in federal courts. "Target settlements begin at $200 million, putting claims today for $10,000-$25,000 in the 'small-time' category," it said.

It names medical and electronic device manufacturers, sporting goods makers, the machine tool industry and even the manufacturers' of machine safety equipment as among those also affected.

Ironically, some of the more financially stable and reliable manufacturers who have a large number of machines in the market place have become the poorer insurance risks, according to the Loeb, Rhoades analysis.

Some manufacturers, it notes, made machinery and equipment that has lasted 30 or 40 years. Now they find themselves the subject of suits because of a change in safety laws, it commented.

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Perhaps it is unfair, but it's amusing and informative, a lesson to be appreciated, when you contrast the excited, lively stock market forecasts of a few months ago with the deadly dull market that ensued.

The summer rally, the promises of a market rising on an ever-strengthening economy, the return of investor confidence and all the other ingredients of those forecasts now look as weary and seedy as the lawns that were planted at the same time.

It wasn't an exciting summer at all, and at least one large firm concedes this. Argus Research Corp. observes that "the past six months has been a boring period..."

Most analysts, however, have their sights, astigmatic as they might be, set on the future, and they see nothing but excitement ahead. Rested and eager for action, they feel the whole country feels the same way.

The presidential election will be a spur to activity, they say. The market has established a base and now is ready to move — upward, of course. We're getting inflation under control. Personal income will rise. Confidence has returned.

Yes sir, the very same observations revealed by a quick survey of the summer's forecasts prior to their being dumped. Why, nothing has changed in those letters, nothing at all, except they seem more excited.

Will the market ascend on their outpouring of air and ink? Or will it continue to squirm about in the upper 900s of the Dow Jones industrial average? Nobody knows for certain, and only a few have a very good idea, and they usually keep their own counsel.

Some institutional investors, for instance, have a fairly good idea of what the price of particular stocks is likely to be because they do so much of the trading in those stocks.

A study made for the House Committee on Banking, Currency, and Housing, for example, maintains that in 1975 the trust and investment division of Morgan Guaranty Trust bought 31 per cent of all International Nickel shares traded.

Prof. Roy A. Schotland of Georgetown University Law School, who wrote the paper said this wasn't usual. Morgan's net purchases of Kaiser Aluminum amounted to 38.5 per cent of all trading, and 28.6 per cent of trading in Manufacturers Hanover.

Nothing wrong about this, says Schotland, but he does suggest we must reflect on the impact that one firm can

Mao unique leader, Nixon says

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (AP) — Mao Tse-tung was a unique leader who had a profound understanding of his own people and of the need for China and the United States to communicate, former President Richard M. Nixon says.

Nixon, the last American known to have met with Mao, visited him in China earlier this year as a private citizen.

In 1972, Nixon was the first American president to visit Mao's China, breaking through a diplomatic barrier of nonrecognition that the United States had maintained since the country's Communist revolution after World War II.

Mao died Thursday of an undisclosed illness.

In a statement issued from his seaside estate here, Nixon said,

"Chairman Mao Tsetung's long march through life has now ended with his death at the age of 82. He was a man of immense physical courage and ideological determination, who worked up until his last days.

"As leaders who represented totally different philosophies and views, we both recognized when we met in Peking in 1972 that Chinese-American friendship had become indispensable to the interests of both our nations."

Nixon lauded Mao as a leader of China, saying, "I was particularly impressed by his profound understanding not only of the problems of his own people, but of the objective realities of the world situation. The new relationship which we established then was a tribute to this farsighted vision on his part.

Commune kids: Just like others, yet different

DOLORES BARCLAY
Associated Press Writer

They are children who sometimes know several adults as their parents. They are children who at an early age perform household and community chores. They are children who take part in decisions long before others their age.

Commune kids: Youngsters who live with their parents, brothers and sisters and other adults and children under one roof much in the tradition of an extended family. Some are the sons and daughters of the counterculture generation of the past decade. Others are offspring of very straight middle-class parents.

But they all share one thing in common: they are being raised in an unconventional way because their parents no longer think the traditional, two-parent household works.

And though communal living may seem fraught with pitfalls, especially to those raised in the classic nuclear family, some social scientists say the commune youngsters are developing well. They believe these children often are more self-sufficient, realistic and better-behaved than children raised in traditional ways.

Commune parents couldn't agree more.

"The commune has been really good for her," said Tilda, the mother of 2½-year-old Shana. "She gets a lot of different things from different people — things George and I couldn't give her. She already has a broad background, not because she's a genius child, but because of the diverse people in her life."

Shana and her parents live with four other adults in a 20-room house in a New York suburb. The house members, like many commune dwellers, shun publicity and did not want their entire names used.

Matthew Harris is the 6½-year-old son of a social worker and a university chaplain. They live on a 100-year-old farm overlooking orchards and fields in northern Maryland. Three other adults and a boy Matthew's age also live in the 10-room, Victorian farmhouse.

Matthew is puzzled when he visits his grandparents, because they don't share chores around the house as his group does.

"He's had a chance to experience very broadly and test skills with a variety of people," said Kathryn Harris, his mother. "He's self-confident and knows it and can explore new situations with a confidence I never had.

"Matthew's a very self-sufficient child. He usually has something to say about decisions regarding him, and his opinion is taken with varying degrees of credibility."

Part of the reason it may be surprising that commune children seem to be thriving, is the free-love and drug image the word "commune" evokes from the general public. Certainly it's a unconventional way of life and the number of youngsters being raised this way is small.

But the "drug freak" image of communes is a hangover from the 1960s. It no longer applies to most.

Some have developed into homes for everyone from banking executives and ordained ministers to schoolteachers and dress designers.

In fact, the Special Approaches in Juvenile Assistance program in Washington, D.C., places runaways in many urban communes.

"Most communes set limits," said Dr. Kenneth Keniston, chairman of the Carnegie Council on Children. "They may not be traditional ones, but they set limits."

At The Farm, an agrarian commune of 800 or so in the rolling foothills of southwestern Tennessee, children are raised in a rather old-fashioned way: respect your parents and walk the straight and narrow.

"We tell our kids where it's at," says Stephen Gaskin, the bearded San Francisco dropout who founded the 1,800-acre community over six years ago. "I think the idea of letting kids go crazy until they're 6 years old and then putting them in public school where they have to snap to right now is a funny way to treat a kid."

Children on The Farm, when not in the commune's state-accredited school, are free to play most of the day if they're tiny tots. They work with the group's many crews if they are older.

Mail is delivered daily by 16-year-old Barbara MacQueen on horseback.

"It takes me a couple of hours to deliver all the mail," she said. "There usually are stacks and stacks of pieces."

She lives in a large compound with others her age. Two married couples live there to help guide the young adults.

"A lot of teens come there from the outside who don't have parents, so we really need the presence of a family," she said.

Over at the stables Katherine Moore, 13, gently coaxed a mare from a stall so her day-old foal could be fed.

"We lived in Berkeley, Calif., before we moved here," said Katherine, who has warm, brown eyes and ready

Man holds own funeral 21st time

BURLINGTON, Colo. (AP) — Jim Gernhart, who says he's worried he won't get a proper burial after he dies, will participate Sunday in his 21st funeral — for himself.

The 99-year-old retired farmer says he hopes he doesn't die before then. But if he does, Gernhart says he'll be buried in Goodland, Kan., because "I wouldn't be caught dead in Burlington."

Gernhart says his concern over lack of a decent funeral for himself has caused him to hold 20 funerals in the past 25 years.

"His funeral is the biggest thing that happens here," Mayor Rol Hudler said.

On Sunday, townspeople will honor him with what is supposed to be a 100th birthday funeral parade. Gernhart actually doesn't turn 100 until Nov. 20.

However, one of the parade funeral organizers says "he's getting a little old, and we're afraid he might not even be around then."

Gernhart staged his first funeral in 1951. He bought a copper casket, rented the local armory and spent more than $15,000 on a funeral party which attracted national attention.

Gernhart has had his copper casket shipped to a mausoleum in Goodland. He says he took the action because there was so much local outcry against his first funeral.

Gernhart, who lives in a rest home, says when he isn't planning funerals, he spends most of his time "just killing time."

He says "there should be a good crowd" for his 100th birthday funeral, and that "anybody can come who wants to."

Among festivities planned for the funeral are an antique car procession through town.

smile. "I never even touched a horse there."

That was three years ago. Now she can shoe a horse and helps give riding lessons to other farm members.

This is not to say that there aren't problems for commune children. Some commune observers report children living in such isolation they barely know what plumbing or electricity are, have never watched television or heard a radio and don't know how to shop with money because they've never been to a store.

And there are even a few celebrated horror stories. John Rothchild and Susan Wolf, authors of "The Children of the Counterculture," tell of children who experience sex before age 12, either with an adult or each other, take drugs and become bored and listless from too much time and too much freedom with none of the limits Dr. Keniston and other psychologists say children must have.

But, adds author Wolf: "In the many communes we visited, we saw no skirt-clutchers or thumb-suckers, no leg-bitters or couch-hiders, no victims of stage fright, no children for whom parents gave the apology, 'It takes them time to warm up to strangers.'"

There are few limits for the children of Yea God, a spiritual commune of 40 in the lush hills of New York's southern tier. Yea God children may wander around the 70 acres of mostly undeveloped land, swim in the large fresh water pond or sit in the sandpile near the great communal dome. They do not read books, listen to music or watch television.

"I like it here," said 6-year-old Sunshine, who lives in a teepee with her mother. "I can stay outside as long as I want. But I like the pond best."

Sunshine, a name given to her when she joined the commune, does not use her real name. She said she sometimes pulls weeds from the large vegetable garden near the front gate or goes exploring in the woods with other children her age.

She wore a long, cotton floral dress that almost reached her bare feet. Large, red marks from insect bites dotted exposed parts of her body.

"It's fun here. The people are fun," she said.

There also are few limits for Alphi, an 8-year-old who lives with two other children and seven adults in a house not far from Fort Lauderdale, Fla. He shares a bedroom and a toy area near the kitchen with the other boy and girl.

His parents share a bedroom with another woman. When asked about this, Alphi shrugged his shoulders, and returned to a junk heap not far from his house where he spends most of his time alone, idling.

But there are limits for 5-year-old

Murray Richards and 6-year-old Corly Stein who live with their parents and another family in a middle-class commune in northern New Jersey.

These children participate in all household chores. Their parents, as a group, designate mealtime and bedtime. The children are allowed to create their own playtime once chores are finished. Both children can cook complete meals and shop with ease in any store.

Many commune youngsters do not stand in awe of naked bodies because their shower and bath sessions are communal, either all men, all women or both. Many others, particularly those living in rural areas, know about birth and death because they very often see farm animals dying or giving birth to their young. In some communes, they are also permitted to be present during a human birth.

"A lot of parents in the communal situation say that children are primarily people — perhaps less sophisticated and less competent," said Bennett Berger, a sociologist at the University of California. "And, if they want to smoke dope and if there's no demonstrable harm, that's okay. If they want to have sex and there's no demonstrable harm that's okay. If they fight, then they must settle their own disputes because that's what life is all about."

UCLA crumples Arizona State

TEMPE, Ariz. (AP) — The 1976 football season has been dubbed as Arizona State's "year to make history" — the first real chance for the Sun Devils to win the mythical national title. However, somebody forgot to tell the UCLA Bruins and their quarterback, senior Jeff Dankworth.

Dankworth, overshadowed the past two years by All-American John Scarra, guided the awesome Bruins' ground attack as it chewed up 486 yards en route to a 28-10 rout of the third-ranked Sun Devils in a nationally televised game Thursday night.

The victory not only left the Devils agast, but also nearly all of the 50,876 fans who packed Sun Devil Stadium and witnessed the nation's longest major college winning streak snapped at 13.

"We're fortunate to have had three weeks to prepare for this game," said Dankworth. "That's longer, of course, than for most games."

"Our whole game plan really was the counter-option and counter-dive, because they do so much stacking, overshifting, stunting and blitzing."

Dankworth attained near perfection in executing the game plan, and himself rushed for 155 yards on 19 carries, scoring twice.

Sophomore halfback Theotis Brown added another 127 yards and two TDs, while running back Wendell Tyler contributed an additional 93 yards on 21 attempts.

While the offense came up with 509 total yards, the Bruins' defense kept Arizona State from mounting any serious threat, allowing the Devils only 137 yards on the ground and 150 through the air.

Arizona State fullback Freddie Williams, who has rushed for over 1,000 yards in each of the past two seasons, was held to 70 yards on 13 carries. The Devils' top rusher for the night was freshman halfback Arthur Lane, who carried the ball 11 times for 74 yards.

No Orange Juice for Buffalo Bills

By The Associated Press
Here comes Archie Griffin. There goes O.J. Simpson.

The difference is like day and night. Griffin, the erstwhile wonder and two-time Heisman Trophy winner for Ohio State, will feel right at home Sunday in Ohio where, despite a groin pull, he will trot out his stuff for the Cincinnati Bengals in a National Football League season opener against the Denver Broncos.

On Monday night in Buffalo, the Electric Company will find out if it's been short-circuited. They are the linemen who used to open the holes for Simpson.

O.J. isn't around any more, having decided staying with his family in Southern California and making movies and commercials was better than another winter in Buffalo.

So the Bills, who were unable to work out a deal that would have sent Simpson to the Los Angeles Rams, open the season without their top draw but with a big problem, mainly the Miami Dolphins.

In Sunday's other games, it will be Tampa Bay at Houston, St. Louis at Seattle, Pittsburgh at Oakland, Philadelphia at Dallas, Los Angeles at Atlanta, Baltimore at New England, Minnesota at New Orleans, Philadelphia at Dallas, the New York Jets at Washington, the New York Jets at Cleveland, San Diego at Kansas City, Detroit at Chicago and San Francisco at Green Bay.

Griffin ran for more than 100 yards in 31 consecutive college games, but wasn't a high pick in the draft because of his size, 5-foot-9. "Archie is going to contribute a great deal to our offense," says Coach Bill Johnson. He succeeds Paul Brown, who retired last season after 36 years in coaching. The Bengals' big gun still is quarterback Ken Anderson, who won his second straight NFL passing title last year.

Archie Griffin debut not on television

CINCINNATI (AP) — Archie Griffin's National Football League debut will be blacked out Sunday on Cincinnati area television since the game is not a sellout.

In fact, it might be one of the Bengals' smallest season openers since moving to Riverfront Stadium six years ago.

"We're a little surprised," said Bill Hedgecock, Bengals ticket manager.

Morgan returns to pace Reds over Astros in eleven

HOUSTON (AP) — Joe Morgan was just happy to be in the right place at the right time.

After missing one game with a moderately sprained ankle, Morgan returned to the Cincinnati lineup and drove in a pair of runs and scored two more as the Reds tripped the Houston Astros 4-3 in 11 innings Thursday night.

"I just got out there and try to help the ball club," said Morgan. "I just happened to be in the right place at the right time."

Pinch hitter Bob Bailey drilled a two-out single in the 11th to score Morgan with the winning run as the Reds eliminated the Astros from contention in the National League West race.

Houston scored three runs in the first two innings off Reds starter Pat Zachry on run scoring singles by Bob Watson, Greg Gross and Enos Cabell.

The Astros maintained their three-run advantage until the eighth. Morgan walked, took second on a grounder and scored on Johnny Bench's single off Houston starter Joaquin Andujar.

One inning later Morgan drove home Cesar Geronimo and Dave Concepcion with a single off reliever Ken Forsch.

Rawly Eastwick, 11-5, hurled two scoreless innings in relief to pick up the victory while Will McEnany blanked the Astros in the 11th for his seventh save of the season.

"I'm not concerned with Los Angeles," said Cincinnati manager Sparky Anderson. "We can win it by ourselves."

The loss was Houston's fifth in the last seven games and the Astros 12th loss in 18 games with the Reds this year.

Nineteen days ago, Tom Underwood pitched a complete game as the Phillies beat the Houston Astros 5-1. The Phillies then packed their bags for a road trip, fully expecting to return conquering heroes, with the National League East title all but sewed up.

Thursday night, the Phillies returned home and beat the Cubs 4-2 on Jim Lonborg's seven-hit complete game performance.

In between those two victories was a road trip that was rockier than the "Perils of Pauline." Along the way, the Phillies lost 12 of 16 games, saw their once-secure lead of 15½ games over Pittsburgh shrink to 4½, and, basically, seemed to forget how to bat and pitch.

While the Phillies were away from home, no pitcher went the distance. The hitters were not producing either. They were shut out twice, held to one run five times and two runs on two occasions.

By Thursday night, the Philadelphia fans at Veterans Stadium decided to forgive and forget, standing and cheering for a full minute in a display of frenzied support for their falling Phillies. The players were moved.

And the fans were even happier at the end of the game when the Phillies were able to post their second victory in 13 games, increasing their lead over idle Pittsburgh to five games. Each team has 24 games left, two against each other.

Giants 4, Dodgers 2

It isn't like 20 years ago when the Giants and Dodgers were from different boroughs in the same city. But a meeting between San Francisco and

Los Angeles still has some meaning, especially to John Montefusco.

Montefusco, 15-12, and Gary Lavelle combined on an eighth-inning as the Giants won their 10th game in 15 meetings with Los Angeles this season. Gary Thomasson's two-run homer in the seventh inning snapped a 2-2 tie.

Cards 6, Expos 1

Lynn McGlothen pitched a four-hitter and batted in three runs but wasn't the whole show for St. Louis. Rookie Garry Templeton slugged his first major league home run, part of the Cardinals' 12-hit attack. And Lou Brock swiped his 50th base of the year, extending his own record for seasons with 50 stolen bases to 12.

Padres 4, Braves 3

Tito Fuentes stroked a two-out, bases-loaded single in the ninth inning to break a 3-3 tie and lift San Diego over Atlanta. Padres reliever Butch Metzger picked up the victory, improving his record to 11-1.

Kansas City feeling better

Brett, Royals stop Angels

By KEN RAPPOPORT

AP Sports Writer

There's obviously nothing wrong with George Brett—and the same could be said of the Kansas City Royals.

Both returned from sick bay Thursday night and never looked healthier while beating the California Angels 6-5 in 10 innings.

Brett, injured while trying to break up a double play in Wednesday night's loss to California, came back in top form Thursday night and collected five hits, including the gamewinner in the 10th inning.

The perfect night by the All-Star third baseman helped the Royals keep surging Oakland at bay in the American League West race. The Royals had lost four straight games and nine in 10 before Thursday night and saw their once-mighty 12-game lead dwindle to five games.

The second-place A's, meanwhile, kept the pressure on the Royals by defeating the Chicago White Sox 2-1.

In other American League games, the New York Yankees defeated the Milwaukee Brewers 4-2; the Cleveland Indians nipped the Baltimore Orioles 4-3; the Boston Red Sox blanked the Detroit Tigers 5-0 and the Minnesota Twins turned back the Texas Rangers 6-0.

Steve Mingori, 4-4, picked up the victory for the Royals while Mike Overy, 0-2, took the loss. The Royals collected 15 hits off Angel starter Paul Hartzell before he was replaced by Overy with two outs in the ninth.

The A's Jim Todd, who relieved starter Mike Norris in the second inning and pitched out of a bases-loaded situation, got credit for the Oakland victory, improving his record to 7-8. Rolie Fingers earned his 20th save, relieving Paul Lindblad in the eighth and getting out of another bases-loaded jam. Chicago's Ken Brett, 9-9, took the loss, while Jorge Orta's 13th homer of the season in the sixth inning accounted for the Sox run.

Yankees 4, Brewers 2

Ken Holtzman, 13-8, recorded his seventh successive career victory over Milwaukee with a seven-hitter and Thurman Munson hit his first Yankee Stadium home run since July 21 as New York defeated Milwaukee. The victory, coupled with Baltimore's loss, reduced to 13 the Yankees' "magic number" for clinching the AL East title. Loser Bill

Sparky changes mind about 'Rover' Andujar

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Cincinnati Reds Sparky Anderson has changed his mind about Houston pitcher Joaquin Andujar.

Earlier this season, when Andujar, a former pitcher in the Reds farm system, beat the Reds, Anderson remarked: "Every dog has his day."

Travers, 13-15, went the distance for the Brewers.

Indians 4, Orioles 3

George Hendrick's leadoff home run in the seventh inning, the second Cleveland homer of the game, gave the Indians their victory over Baltimore. Pat Dobson, with seventh-inning relief help from Dave LaRoche, who recorded his 17th save, beat the Orioles for the fourth time without a loss this season and boosted his record to 14-11.

Red Sox 5, Tigers 0

Right-hander Rick Wise flirted with a perfect game for 6 1/3 innings before settling for a two-hitter in pitching Boston over Detroit. Wise retired the first 19 batters in order before rookie Phil Mankowski drilled a 3-2 pitch for a single to center with one out in the seventh. Ben Oglivie followed with a ground single through the middle but Wise settled down and improved his record to 12-10 with his fourth shutout of the season.

Andujar has beaten Cincinnati three times this year and won his last two starts with 1-0 shutouts, including a 5-hitter against Tom Seaver and the New York Mets.

"That guy has a pedigree now," said Anderson.

Dream Maker wins Scioto race

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Dream Maker, the Race Time colt owned and trained by Dick Oldfield of Adrian, Mich., took the lead in the stretch and held on to win the $30,000 Little Brown Jug Preview at Scioto Downs Thursday night.

Dream Maker, nearly unheard of until he won the Geers Stake at DuQuoin, Ill., last weekend, paced the mile in 2:03 2-5 on a slow track to edge fast-closing Gusto Omaha by a head.

The winner, driven by Glen Garmsey, returned $5.60, $4 and $2.60. Gusto Omaha, off at 50-1, paid $117.80 and $3.80 for second, while Warm Breeze, the solid favorite who never saw first place, paid $2.20 to show.

The 1-7 daily double combination of Oaklawn Victoria and Spirit Creek was worth $183.20.

Panthers favored; Wellston to trip Lions

SCOL teams open with non-loop tilts

By PHIL LEWIS

Tonight is the official opening of the Ohio High School football season with over 700 prep squads taking the field. If you figure the average number of players on each team is 42, then you have over 30,000 prep gridders in uniform tonight.

Over 300 of those gridders participated in the South Central Ohio League of which the two local high schools contribute 87 players.

The large number of participants reflects the importance of the sport, but another important aspect of the game is winning.

The players strive for it, the fans love it, and the coaches must do it every once in awhile or their jobs are in jeopardy. Right or wrong, winning is the most important aspect of the game.

Every team in the state will be trying to win tonight including the eight SCOL squads.

MIAMI TRACE AT NORTHEASTERN
The Panthers have beaten the Jets in five straight season openers and the trend should remain the same.

Northeastern has plenty of key players returning, but so do the Panthers, who topped the Jets, 26-0, last season.

To add to Jet coach Gary Smittle's problems, several of his players will miss the season opener due to injuries including running back Jeff Wolcott.

The Panthers haven't lost in 14 games, so picking them to win won't be going out on a limb — Panthers 24, Jets 6.

WASHINGTON C.H. AT WELLSTON
Wellston and Washington C.H. each posted 7-3 records last season. The Blue Lions are in a tough league, but so are the Golden Rockets, who must play Jackson, Ironton and Athens each season.

New Blue Lion coach Paul Ondrus has four starters back from last season's squad. Wellston returns 33 lettermen.

The figures are in the Golden Rockets favor — Wellston 21, Blue Lions 12.

CHILLICOTHE AT CIRCLEVILLE
Coach Larry Cook's Tigers lost just one game last season while Chillicothe lost every game but one, and that was a tie.

The future looks bright again for Circleville and dim again for Chillicothe. It all adds up to a Tiger win — Circleville 16, Chillicothe 0.

GREENFIELD AT WESTERVILLE
Greenfield is hoping for a better than .500 season in 1976. It would be the first in a long time.

Westerville would just like to win a game. It would be their first ever. Of course, the school has only been around for one year.

Although the Columbus school returns everybody from last season's squad, a victory will still be out of reach — McClain 21, Westerville North 8.

WILMINGTON AT XENIA
Wilmington will be much improved over the last time these two teams met. That was in the season opener last year when Xenia romped to a 20-6 victory. Xenia will be surprised by the improvement — Hurricane 14, Xenia 12 thanks to Gary Williams' toe.

NEW RICHMOND AT HILLSBORO
Hillsboro looked bad in its last preseason scrimmage with Clinton Massie, a team which is far from being a powerhouse.

New Richmond doesn't figure to be much of a powerhouse either. In fact, neither the Indians nor New Richmond will give people much trouble this season.

New Richmond, however, will give the Indians trouble — New Richmond 18, Hillsboro 0.

WESTFALL AT MADISON PLAINS
The Golden Eagles would like to win a couple of games before beginning South Central Ohio League play, but Westfall is not the type of team to be beaten.

Fourteen lettermen return at Westfall from an 8-2 squad. One of those returnees John Long, was the Scioto Valley Conference back of the year the past two seasons.

He should have a field day against the Eagles — Westfall 30, Madison Plains 8.

NFL draft ruling studied

By The Associated Press
The overthrow of the National Football League draft of college players may force teams to recruit players in the same manner as high schools and colleges, according to Chicago Bears General Manager Jim Finks.

Other reactions to Judge William Bryant's Wednesday ruling indicated, however, that other measures might be taken to obtain player talent while acting within the confines of antitrust laws. One such action was suggested by Bryant.

In his ruling, Bryant submitted that the 17-round, 476-selection draft be trimmed to include only two rounds with a total of 56 players selected, with those not chosen in the two rounds being contacted by any club interested.

He suggested further that if the NFL wanted to keep its 17-round format, it could have each player drafted by two or three teams. That would produce some kind of competitive bidding for the athlete's services as opposed to the "outright, undisguised...group boycott in its classic and most pernicious form, a device which has long been condemned as per se a violation of the antitrust laws."

Under the guidelines of the overturned draft, a player chosen by a team becomes that club's property until traded, waived or sold.

Four drivers charged after city accidents

As a result of four separate Thursday accidents, four motorists were issued traffic citations by Washington C.H. police officers.

A car driven by Donna J. Rider, 18, of Sabina was eastbound in the center lane of Court Street, when it changed to the curb lane and reportedly struck two cars, also proceeding east on Court Street.

The other two cars were driven by Norman E. Wilson, 40, of 131 Laurel Road, and Darrell S. Shibley, 22, of 6-C Wagner Court. Both were slightly damaged, while the Rider car incurred moderate damage in the 7:38 p.m. Thursday accident.

A passenger in the Wilson car, Aileen J. Wilson, 43, of 131 Laurel Road, claimed injury as a result of the mishap, but was not treated at the time. Ms. Rider was charged with a change of lanes traffic violation.

Southbound on North Street, a car driven by James L. Brown, 16, of 1131 E. Paint St., turned west onto Oakland Avenue, reportedly slid on wet pavement and struck an approaching car, eastbound on Oakland Avenue.

The second car was driven by Diane L. McNary, 18, of 938 Dayton Ave., and both vehicles were slightly damaged in the 5:02 p.m. Thursday accident. The accident occurred at the North Street junction, and Brown was charged with speeding.

June L. Hawks, 21, of Columbus, was traveling west on Columbus Avenue, did not observe a red light at the Wilson Street junction, police officers said, and collided with a car headed south on Wilson Street.

The second car was driven by Heber R. Shields, 71, of 1025 Dayton Ave., and both vehicles were slightly damaged in the 2:24 p.m. Thursday accident. Ms. Hawks was charged with a red light violation.

Charles J. Carson, 40, of 1153 E. Paint St., was charged with backing without safety following a 12:29 p.m. Thursday accident, police officers reported.

Carson said he was attempting to turn into the driveway at the rear of his residence, when he started to back up along Blackstone Avenue and struck another vehicle proceeding along the avenue.

The second vehicle was a truck driven by Sharon K. Harper, 29, of 1611 Barbara Lane, and no damage to either vehicle was reported. The accident occurred near E. Paint Street.

Fayette County sheriff's deputies reported that a truck driven by Kevin J. Burns, 27, of Albany, rolled over along the side of U.S. 35-SE at 9:29 p.m. Thursday.

Burns had been traveling southeast on U.S. 35-SE, when he said he lost control of his truck just north of the Eymann Road, after his lights had gone out.

The truck struck and damaged eight rods of fence belonging to Delbert Beekman, 8273 U.S. 35-SE. The vehicle was moderately damaged.

In 1795 Congress passed a law providing that the net proceeds of land sale in Ohio and the rest of the Northwest Territory should go into the Sinking Fund of the United States for the extinction of the public debt. —AP

According to Mrs. Sever, she and her husband have never had much luck raising watermelons, but this year they purchased some new seeds and obviously, have been quite successful.

Convict seeks trip into space

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — The U.S. space agency appreciates Jerry Artrip's offer, but officials don't want him to be a guinea pig astronaut.

Artrip, 24, is serving a 1-to-20-year prison sentence for manslaughter, and he'll do almost anything to get out.

Artrip wrote the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, "If I died in a space capsule for my country, it would be better than this slow, agonizing, everyday death in a prison cell."

"I am not a dumb head, and I have a strong initiative to learn. I read a lot of science fiction and UFO books. If they send monkeys up there, why not send a man who can do all their tests, and a man who doesn't really care if he returns or not?"

NASA spokesman Jack Riley said space officials appreciate the offer, but, "We are flying our experienced scientists and professionals and have no use whatsoever for any human guinea pig astronauts."

Another official added, "We aren't in the business in America of sacrificing human lives in the name of science. We appreciate the guy's apparent good will but we just don't do that sort of thing."

Artrip doesn't see anything odd about his offer.

"They have used convicts as guinea pigs to test medicines and serums and drugs," he wrote, "why not to further space technology? I have a bit of the explorer in my soul and if they think I can escape...well, they must be joking."

Artrip was convicted of the 1974 shooting death of Ronald Randolph of Dayton and is incarcerated at the Southern Ohio Correctional Facility at Lucasville.

Arrests

POLICE

THURSDAY — Marvin J. Collins, 18, of 331 N. Fayette St., reckless operation; Donna J. Rider, 18, of Sabina, improper changing of lanes; James L. Brown, 16, of 1131 E. Paint St., speeding; June L. Hawks, 21, of Columbus, red light violation; Charles J. Carson, 40, of 1153 E. Paint St., backing without safety.

Commissioners of Ohio's canal system had intended originally to carry the canal system across the Scioto Valley to the Miami River, the waterway thus traversing the state from northeast to southwest, but the plan was found to be impracticable because of topographical difficulties. — AP

Bus crash injures 6

FINDLAY, Ohio (AP) — A tractor-trailer rig slammed into the rear of a stopped school minibus on U.S. 30 during a rainstorm Thursday, injuring six persons, one critically.

The Highway Patrol said the bus, operated by the Blanchard Valley School for the Retarded, was discharging a youngster when the accident occurred just west of Williamstown.

The six persons aboard the bus, all residents of rural Hancock County, were injured and three were hospitalized.

Most seriously hurt was Paul Gossard, 15, who was listed in critical condition at Lima St. Rita's Hospital with severe head injuries.

Admitted to Blanchard Valley Hospital in Findlay were William Frazier, 22, with head injuries, and Toby Baumgardner, 7, with multiple injuries. Both were listed in fair condition.
